

Jim Foy
President and Chief Executive Officer
Aspect Software

Jim Foy brings more than three decades of software industry expertise to his role as President, CEO and Director of Aspect Software. Jim joined the company in 2001 and under his direction, the company is the world's largest company solely focused on providing proven, innovative products and services for the contact center market.

Jim's continued vision for Aspect Software is to help our customers gain competitive advantage with solutions that enable more effective and efficient customer-company interactions in collections, customer service and sales and telemarketing.

Under Jim's leadership, the company is making great strides—consistently meeting financial expectations, delivering on its aggressive strategic plans and earning valuable recognition from the contact center industry.

During his distinguished career, Jim has held several executive positions at leading enterprise software companies. Prior to Aspect Software, he served as President of Informix Software, a global enterprise software company with more than $750 million in revenue. Jim also served as the Executive Vice President of Engineering at Ardent Software; the Founder, President and CEO of Constellation Software; and as Director of Research and Development at Prime Computer. While at Prime, he was also a member of the board of directors of X/Open and Unix International.
